FOREWORD

Making a difference and transforming others has been at the core of my own work as the leader and CEO of the Money and You® Program. The purpose of our organization, Excellerated Business Schools® for Entrepreneurs, is to Uplift Humanity's Consciousness through Business.

J V's Conscious Millionaire E-Book Series is a perfect companion to my work. It is in alignment with what we teach in our Money and You® Program. Through his work at the Conscious Millionaire® Institute, J V teaches his Triple Win™ principle: you, others, and society winning together. I feel as if I have found a “brother” in this man who is one of the transformational leaders of our time.

Like many successful entrepreneurs, J V was not born into wealth. He grew up in a small country town in a family that frequently struggled financially. In his twenties, he made his first million by stepping into a chaos-driven, family trucking company that was bleeding cash and on the edge of bankruptcy. By turning it around, then growing and ultimately selling it, he reaped the reward of his tenacity and insight.

Now you get that same insight and wisdom layered with additional years of building his own businesses and coaching other business owners. Through his book, he is your coach, mentor, and guide on a path that unites creating profits with achieving a higher purpose. J V seamlessly weaves these two motives throughout his book, which is designed to teach both new and seasoned entrepreneurs how to make their chosen difference in our world.

Today's entrepreneurs are no longer willing to compromise by only pursuing profits at the cost of not also having personal fulfillment and doing something they feel matters. There is a whole new generation of socially-minded entrepreneurs coming on line. These are the same entrepreneurs who seek the program we offer at the Excelerated Business Schools and the wisdom offered through Conscious Millionaire.

My mentors were pioneers in the field of transformational business teachings with the added dimension of Social Responsibility. Our mentor, the benevolent Dr. R. Buckminster Fuller, was named one of the Top 100 most influential persons of the 20th century by Time Magazine. He was a great futurist who proved through his work there really is enough to feed everyone on this planet, and that it is our obligation to create a world that works for everyone.

J V is one of the current day visionaries. His E-Books embody his wisdom, practical knowledge, and cutting edge insights. In them he provides a step-by-step path for entrepreneurs who seek to create change while building wealth.

Each of us has a responsibility to create our financial destinies. Through sound business principles, strategies, and the coaching found in each of this visionary E-Books, J V shows you how. The Conscious Millionaire E-Book Series gives the reader the entire range of what he or she needs to become successful in business. The series not only provides result-based, bottom line strategies for making money, it also gives insights for how to access the deeper, authentic flow of life and connect with your own visionary consciousness.

Read, study, and apply the Formula for Creating Wealth™ found in this E-Book Series. Utilize it to make your financial decisions as you explore the infinite possibilities for how your business can change the lives of others and our world.

Welcome to a wonderful new paradigm. May you and the society in which we all live, prosper and thrive. Enjoy the journey of building your business and making your contribution as a Conscious Millionaire Entrepreneur.

Aloha!

FORMULA FOR CREATING WEALTH

Action only matters when it is consciously focused on your goals.

In this E-Book, you discover the power of making choices consciously. You will learn the three-part Formula for Creating Wealth, which is based on becoming conscious, being focused, and taking action. You will then be introduced to the foundational version of the Conscious Focused Action Model™. This model applies the formula to help you achieve any result you desire. You will also discover how to achieve your results quickly by accessing the amazing power of Conscious Millionaire Visualization™.

THE POWER OF CONSCIOUS CHOICE

Throughout your day, you make numerous choices in your business and in your life. At the conscious level, you make hundreds, if not thousands, of choices every day. At the unconscious level, you make an incalculable number of choices daily, as well. Whether small or massively significant, every choice is a decision that affects the results you achieve.

Choices are statements about your priorities and what you value. They are decisions about your desires and how you will achieve them. Each choice you make both opens and closes doors. Doors open by providing access to specific opportunities.

Your choices determine whether you operate from higher consciousness or remain unconscious of the consequences.

Doors close by eliminating any other options.

Consider all of the choices you make in your business. You choose the type of business you own, your vision and values for it, the customers you serve, the people on your team, the products and services you provide, and the prices at which they're offered.

You choose whether to structure your daily activities and consciously choose priorities, or haphazardly go through your day, hoping something good will happen. You also choose whether to stay laser focused, or allow yourself to become distracted and veer off course. You choose how you respond to everything that occurs throughout your day.

You choose whether to structure your daily activities and consciously choose priorities, or haphazardly go through your day, hoping something good will happen. You also choose whether to stay laser focused, or allow yourself to become distracted and veer off course. You choose how you respond to everything that occurs throughout your day.

You determine how rapidly your business grows, which goals you will pursue, as well as the actions you choose to take. You select which opportunities to follow and how well you manage each of the risks involved. You choose the level of difference you make in our world.

Whether you build a culture that attracts the top talent and then fosters their growth is also your choice. You choose whether your business is only focused on profits or is also designed to achieve a larger purpose and provide fulfillment to all those involved, such as your team, suppliers, and customers.

While many people may argue with the following statement, until you accept the truth in it, I guarantee that you will have far less money and success than I believe you deserve: The level of financial success you currently have is the direct result of your choices.

Simply put, your choices determine whether you operate from higher consciousness or remain unconscious of the consequences—for yourself, others, and our world. Your choices also determine whether you build a high growth, profitable business or constantly lose money, and whether you improve the lives of your customers or sell products that deliver little value.

The reality is you are constantly making choices. Your business and personal life demands this of you. However, the problem is most entrepreneurs don't consciously consider all of their options before choosing which actions to take.

The level of financial success you currently have is the direct result of your choices.

They jump into the middle of building their business without setting up the first part, which is getting clear about the results they want to achieve. Until you develop clear goals, you can't choose the best actions to take. Furthermore, you can't develop the best business model or success plan. Your first step must be to consciously choose what you want.

*Entrepreneurs who achieve the most,
take responsibility by making conscious choices!*

The entrepreneurs who make the biggest differences, grow the biggest businesses, and enjoy amazing lives that are deeply fulfilling, all take personal responsibility for achieving what they desire. They realize that the only way to control their future is to assume responsibility by making conscious choices. If you want to take control over your financial future, then consciously choose your destiny and take conscious focused actions to attain it.

Coaching: Open your Conscious Millionaire Journal. In it describe a business choice you will make this week. Consider at least three options and list the positive and negative consequences of choosing each of these. Then consciously choose one option and put it into action.

THE FORMULA FOR CREATING WEALTH

Success is not an accident. Entrepreneurs who achieve greatness all follow a consistent method. In short, they achieve their financial results because they use a specific formula. So, what is a formula? It is a process, a set of steps that you can use to obtain predictable results in your business, finances, and life. It is a repeatable way to achieve results.

In this section you discover what I believe is the ultimate formula for achieving wealth. This formula consists of three specific steps. Even before I fully articulated them, I was utilizing them to create wealth from my businesses.

The Formula for Creating Wealth empowers you to achieve any result you desire!

These steps, which I now call the Formula for Creating Wealth, are what allowed me to progress from growing up in a family that frequently struggled financially to becoming a millionaire in my twenties. Consistently applying these three steps is the reason I could afford to live in a luxury town home on the water, enjoy my dream car, and vacation in Europe, at the age of twenty-five.

It is also how I reached every major goal I've ever accomplished. This includes how I am building the non-profit I founded, Conscious World® Foundation, Inc. You can utilize this formula to achieve any result you desire—in your business and life.

When I sat down to write Conscious Millionaire, the first question I asked was, “How did I create wealth so quickly?” That’s when I realized there were three steps I had been taking all along. These aren’t just the steps for achieving financial wealth; they are also the steps for attaining any type of professional or personal success you desire.

The Formula for Creating Wealth is: conscious focused action™. Think of these three steps as the skills to develop and master if you want to consciously create wealth.

The following model provides a visual representation of the formula. The first level is conscious; at this level become conscious of the specific result you desire. The second level is focus; at this level focus on your desired result so you stay on track to achieve it. The third level is action; at this level take actions focused on assuring you attain your result.

1. Conscious: To become conscious is to awaken. It is to become aware of who you are, which includes your deeper passions, sense of purpose and greatest strengths. It is to become aware of both your interior and exterior worlds. It is also to realize that you are part of a greater whole, one that includes you, others, and the society in which you live.

To be conscious as an entrepreneur means giving attention to the mechanics of making money, including: how to define your ideal customer, choose the right products, market and sell them, and create profitable growth. Being conscious includes gathering information, then analyzing it before you make decisions or choose a course of action. As a business leader and entrepreneur it means realizing that you have a responsibility not only to yourself, but to others and the world in which you live.

When you make financial and business decisions, it is noticing which decisions have integrity and genuinely improve the lives of others, and which do not, then only taking actions that feel authentic and right for you. By paying attention to what is in your heart—the authentic ways you want to help others, then expressing these in your business purpose—you will not only make a powerful difference, you will create your highest profits.

The reason is simple. When you and your team are achieving something that matters to each of you, a purpose that transcends money itself, you will become passionately motivated to achieve it. Because you are motivated, you will grow your business faster.

As you become more conscious, you become more aware of your innate potential, increase your desire to learn and grow, and expand your views of what is possible. As you develop your awareness, you increase your ability to connect with higher levels of consciousness—states in which bigger visions are born. As you take your conscious journey, you will discover an infinite number of opportunities to create wealth.

On this journey, you will discover there are three types of consciousness: awareness, visionary, and social. Awareness consciousness is knowing what you want, how to best achieve it, and what is true in the present moment. Visionary consciousness relates to connecting to a higher consciousness, which is a source of inspiration and vision. Social consciousness is being mindful of the needs of others and the problems in society, then responding to these in how you build your business and live your life.

Conscious Millionaires operate with a sense of higher consciousness. They build their businesses with the complimentary goals of achieving a higher purpose and making higher profits.

2. Focused: To become focused is to concentrate your attention in a specific direction. Focus is the ability to follow one course of action to completion rather than succumbing to distractions. When you scatter your focus, your energy dissipates over a broad spectrum. As a result, you accomplish very little and your business tends to stagnate. Yet, when you become laser focused, you naturally build momentum and achieve your goals faster. The more you focus your attention in a specific direction, the more your entire business begins to move in that direction.

By paying attention to the feedback you receive, you become aware of which conscious focused actions to take.

If you focus on bringing your visionary purpose into your business, you identify ways to infuse it into every area of your business. If you focus on increasing profits, you find ways to ramp up profits. If you focus on acquiring customers and making sales, you attract more customers and make more sales. If you focus on building a talented team who support your vision, you will attract them to help you grow your business.

While every entrepreneur has the same number of minutes, hours, and days in a week, the ones who become successful, consciously focus on their highest priorities and best use of their time. As a result, they achieve far more than other entrepreneurs because they execute by taking the most effective and efficient actions.

3. Action: One of the primary differences between the big winners in business and those who perform poorly is execution. Successful entrepreneurs constantly take action; but not just any action. In fact, one of the most frequent errors business owners make is jumping right in and taking massive action—without allowing time to reflect consciously on what they want and how they can best achieve it.

However, entrepreneurs who utilize the Formula for Creating Wealth become conscious of the specific results they want, are laser focused on achieving them, and efficiently reach their results by taking actions only designed to attain them.

The most successful entrepreneurs don't just take the right actions, they take them quickly. They are the first to create upgraded products, deliver innovative services, or implement cutting-edge marketing strategies. Conscious Millionaire entrepreneurs achieve higher results by remaining consciously focused on their desired results, then taking the fewest number of actions necessary to achieve their results.

This is an iterative formula, which means you go through the three levels numerous times. Each time make changes. This allows you to learn more about what works and what doesn't at every level. By paying attention to the feedback you receive, you become aware of which conscious focused actions to take.

Consciousness makes you aware of the result you want and the strategies that will help you achieve it. Focus drives your energy in the direction of that result. Action moves you forward toward your desired result. In the next section, you will learn how to use the formula to grow your business, create wealth, and achieve any business result you desire.

Coaching: Open your Conscious Millionaire Journal. Describe one goal that will require you to move outside your current comfort zone. Then take the first three actions necessary to achieve it as a way to expand your consciousness of what is possible for you.

CONSCIOUS FOCUSED ACTION MODEL - 1

Model-1 consists of five levels: conscious, focus, action, result, and learning. The first three levels come from The Formula for Creating Wealth, which was introduced in the prior section.

The Conscious Focused Action Model adds a fourth and fifth level. The fourth level, result, is the specific result you chose when at the conscious level. The fifth level, learning, is the highest level of the model. It is at this level that you discover what worked and what didn't.

Then based upon what you learn, make decisions about what needs to change and iterate. What this means is return to the conscious level, introduce the needed changes into the model, then move through the five levels of the model again.

THE FIVE LEVELS

Now that you have been introduced to the five levels that comprise the Conscious Focused Action Model, in this section you will learn how to use the three focal points on each of the five levels.

Because the following description contains many details, I suggest you use the link at the end of this E-Book to access a coaching video which fully explains the first diagram, which is below. The short video will give you a practical example of how to use each of the levels.

Throughout the Conscious Millionaire E-Book Series, there are fourteen versions of this model. Each version helps you apply the information in that E-Book to become a Conscious Millionaire. Think of these models as your guide for creating wealth.

CONSCIOUS FOCUSED ACTION MODEL-1

Let's use your desire to become a Conscious Millionaire as an example for how to use the Model.

1. Conscious Level

At the conscious level, address these three areas:

A. “What result do I want to achieve?” and, “Why is accomplishing this result a priority?” These questions address which result you desire (to become a Conscious Millionaire) and why it is a priority for you.

B. “Who will benefit from achieving this result?” In this example, it is you. Note: it could also be others or society. In addition consider, “Who will help attain this result?”

C. “How do I best reach this result?” which brings you to consider: skills, strategy (set of actions) and resources (people, assets, money).

2. Focus Level

At the focus level, develop these three focal points:

A. Mental (thoughts, beliefs, questions)

B. Emotional (positive emotions)

C. Physical (readiness to take action)

Develop mental focus by constantly thinking about how to achieve your direct result; creating empowering beliefs that support you achieving that result; and, asking yourself questions that direct your mind to discover solutions for how to best achieve your result. Develop emotional focus by selecting three to five positive emotions that you can utilize as positive states. Develop physical focus by maintaining your health and being constantly focused on taking action.

3. Action Level

At the action level, consider these three questions:

- A. “Which actions should I take?”
- B. “What order should I take them?”
- C. “When should I begin taking action?”

While answering these questions, identify any internal and external events that must occur before you begin to take action. Internal events could include other team members completing their part of a project. External events might include when a prospect indicates interest in buying.

4. Result Level

At the result level, think of three aspects of your results:

- A. Direct result: how well you achieved the result you intended;
- B. Indirect results: other positive outcomes that weren't your specific focus (such as your customer referring a friend); and
- C. Negative results: negative outcomes that hinder achieving your desired outcome (such as spending so much time working that you become sick, which costs several days of productivity).

5. Learning Level

At the learning level, evaluate your experience by asking:

- A. “What worked?”
- B. “What didn't work?”
- C. “What change is needed?”

If you didn't fully achieve your desired result, want to improve your process, or care to achieve your result at a higher level, then iterate. Here is how to iterate: determine what needs to change, return to the conscious level, then make the changes as you move through the model again.

To identify any needed changes, review the decisions you made at each level and consider alternatives that might be better. Make these changes and test them to see if they actually are better. How? Put them in the model and notice your results.

By continuing to iterate, you will develop your ideal process (your best conscious focused actions) for achieving your specific result. Once you develop your ideal process, you can easily teach it to new employees and duplicate it at other locations. You can also sell it to other entrepreneurs as an information product, consulting service or as part of franchising your business.

While our example concerns a result you want to achieve for yourself, the model can also be utilized to provide a benefit to others (such as another person, business, organization) or to society. Many people find the best way to think of society is as a community to which you belong or care about. Recall that at the conscious level of the model, the three possibilities for "who" will benefit are: you, others and society/community.

By utilizing this five-level model in any of the fourteen variations you will find throughout the Conscious Millionaire E-Book Series, you can rapidly grow your business and achieve any result you desire.

Coaching: Open your Conscious Millionaire Journal. Write one result you want to achieve in your business. Then utilize the five levels of the Conscious Focused Action Model to achieve it.

CONSCIOUS MILLIONAIRE VISUALIZATION

Visualizing is thinking in terms of pictures. Think of a gold coin or blue sky and you are visualizing. Successful athletes, actors, speakers, singers, entrepreneurs, business owners, sales professionals and executives all use some form of visualization to turn their goals into real life results. High performers regularly visualize their success before it happens.

Olympic athletes and major sports players use visualization to help them win and stay at the top of their game. They envisage hitting their golf shot, winning their race, making the touchdown, sinking the ball, and making the goal. Just as they use visualization to see themselves winning before the game begins, you can use visualization to see yourself winning in your business.

Remember when you were a child? You would imagine whatever you desired. You easily accessed your imagination and saw yourself becoming rich and famous, being a movie star, a celebrity singer with raving fans, living in an amazing home, driving your ideal car, or having your dream boyfriend or girlfriend.

In your mind, you visited imaginary lands and became a pretend person. You would see yourself taking action in such rich and vivid detail that you completely felt and believed it was real. You experienced the emotional excitement as if you had actually become a king, queen or action hero.

What were you doing? You were visualizing. As an entrepreneur, you can now use those same powers to help rapidly turn your goals into the results you want. You can use visualization to help grow your business, lead your team, close more sales, or achieve any result you desire.

High performers regularly visualize their success before it happens.

Here is a childhood story from my past. I was a five-year-old when I saw myself growing up to become a millionaire. What was I doing? I was visualizing. I've been constantly refining my approach since. As a result, I've developed a massively powerful process that I am sharing with you now. Use it to achieve any business or personal goal you desire.

I call my approach Conscious Millionaire Visualization. It consists of three steps, each modeled after one of the steps in the Formula for Creating Wealth:

1. Conscious: In your mind, build a richly detailed, vivid picture of your ideal future, the new reality that you want to experience. Describe what you will specifically see, hear, smell, taste, physically sense and emotionally feel when what you desire has fully become your new reality. See it in your mind as it will be when your goal is fully achieved—see it as if your quest is finished.

2. Focused: Intensely focus your mind, heart-centered feelings and body on your desired reality. Imagine that every thought, feeling and cell in your body is laser focused on your outcome. Instead of leaving the picture “out there,” as if it were somewhere in the distant future, bring it toward you. When it gets close to your body, bring it inside of you so your future and present become ONE. Embody it and see yourself fully living in your new reality, RIGHT NOW!

3. Action: While connecting with your passionate heart-centered feelings, mentally rehearse the exact step-by-step actions you believe are necessary in order to create your new reality. Continue to make any needed changes in your actions until you genuinely feel and totally believe that by taking these actions you will create your new reality. Think of this as your action script. While in a state of intense mental, emotional and physical focus, take your initial three action steps. Remain in your “visualization state” as you move forward through your day.

Conscious Millionaire Visualization is how I visualize and is what I teach my clients. By not only mentally taking ownership of what you want, but also emotionally feeling and physically sensing your desired reality, you can rapidly move toward the result you want. Start your day by visualizing your success and taking conscious focused action to make it your new reality.

One of the secrets to why Conscious Millionaire Visualization consistently produces amazing results is found in the “focused” step. When you fully associate in your mind, heart, and body with your desired result as being completed, you energetically become one with your desired result. At the exact moment this occurs, you experience a deep transformational shift—in your mind, emotions, and body.

The shift is from hoping the result will occur someday in the future, to experiencing it as if it is already occurring today—here and now, in this exact moment. This approach to visualization is a practical expression of a profound truth: all creation begins on the internal plane and manifests on the external plane—as within, so without. This truth is expressed in every culture and wisdom tradition known to mankind.

Using Conscious Millionaire Visualization, you create your reality. How? By visualizing with complete faith that what you are seeing in your mind, feeling in your heart, and sensing in your body is real—as if it is already occurring. Through this form of visualization, you give yourself permission to live at your highest level and express your highest consciousness.

Your internal reality is literally activated and magnified through the visualization process. It is made ready to manifest outside of you. Therefore, act with complete confidence, believing that what you are seeing in your mind, feeling in your heart, and sensing in your body is becoming your external reality—one conscious focused action at a time.

YOUR MILLIONAIRE JOURNEY

If you miss your real journey, you miss your real life.

HOW I BECAME A MILLIONAIRE

I was twenty-five years old and had just moved into my beautiful home on Bayshore Boulevard, the “Fifth Avenue” of Tampa, Florida. My home overlooked the scenic Tampa Bay. Imagine the view: palm trees blowing in the wind, sailboats moving on the bay, and water stretching out as far as the eye could see. The garage was occupied with my Mercedes which welcomed me back from a summer vacation in Europe.

By many definitions, it was the life we ALL dream of. For me, it was as amazing as I had dreamed it from the time I was five-years-old.

At that early age, I decided to become a millionaire when I grew up. My motivation was simple. I never wanted money to be a problem for me. I didn't want to financially struggle as was frequently the situation for my family. In fact, now, as I tell you my story, I can still remember the one day that changed my life. It was like it happened yesterday.

My family lived out in the country in the central part of Florida. It was a small village of only a few hundred people. Our home was a five-minute walk to a large lake which was my childhood playground. I built sand castles on the beach, swam, skied, and played on the docks. Our modest lifestyle was like many families in the area—people got by, but not much more.

The value of education was instilled in me by my mom, who was a school teacher. My father farmed and owned a citrus harvesting business. And my grandmother, my mom's mother, lived with us. She was an amazingly wise woman and a true angel who taught me the spiritual meaning of life. As I didn't have any brothers or sisters, she was part grandmother, sister, and close friend.

Dad had a strong entrepreneurial instinct in that he could easily spot trends and accurately predict where money could be made. However, he always seemed to have a setback at the very moment it looked like his financial life might turn around. He often had the right instincts, but his business endeavors never fully succeeded.

Dad was a man of strong character who cared deeply for others. He lived from his heart and believed in his fellow man. When Dad asked a customer how they felt or he expressed his concern over a problem, it came from his heart and they knew that he meant it. Relationships, both in his civic and business life, were his strong point.

With a magnetic personality, Dad was also a consummate storyteller. He was a true gentleman. Both men and women admired him and wanted to be around him. He was the type of man who instantly made friends wherever he traveled.

As a little boy I would go with him to the citrus groves, and we would fish together. I had boots that were just like Dad's, looked up to him, and wanted to emulate everything he did. Many of my life values were influenced by his. My desire to help others is the direct result of both my mom and dad's view that we all have an obligation to leave the world better off for our having journeyed here. This was like a family motto.

At an early age, I decided to become a millionaire.

Now, it was probably just another typical day for my five-year-old friends, but not for me. I remember that day like it was just yesterday. I clearly recall the precise moment. I had such a strong awareness of what I wanted, like an epiphany, that it changed my life forever.

I ran into the house and looked up at my parents. Then I shouted out in my loudest little boy voice, "When I grow up, I'm going to be a millionaire!" Even now, I can remember the exact look of shock on Mom's face. She shook her finger at me and said in a hushed tone, "Don't tell anyone."

You see, we were good church-going people and my parents figured anyone who had that much money must be doing something wrong.

But like most little kids, I ignored what they said and told everyone in the neighborhood. It didn't matter to me what anyone else thought or if they even believed I could become a millionaire. What mattered is that I believed it.

I can even recall sketching out floor plans for mansions, though I'd never even been in one. From that day forward, I focused on my millionaire dream, determined that nothing would ever stop me or get in my way.

At five, I don't actually think I knew what a million dollars was; however, I figured if I had that much money, everything in my life would be great. I wouldn't have any problems! At least that is how I imagined my life as a millionaire.

Flash forward to age twenty-five, living in my new home on Bayshore Boulevard. Instead of a life of struggle, I now had money and an amazing lifestyle. For the first few months, I thought I had “arrived.” This was everything I had dreamed of as a little boy. I even purchased the grand piano I had always wanted when I was taking piano lessons as a child.

But, you may be wondering how I arrived at this moment and place in my life. You are probably asking yourself how I made my first money and learned about business. Here is a brief version of the rest of my story.

I was in school in Los Angeles and had a month break. So, I flew back home to Florida to visit my parents. I had been away at college for several years and hadn’t realized my father was facing mounting financial problems.

After years of struggling in business, getting ahead multiple times only to have setbacks—freezes that wiped out crops, betrayals by business partners, unfortunate money decisions—Dad had reached the age of fifty-eight tired, worn-out, and feeling like a failure.

He had just sold one business to a competitor for pennies on the dollar. He needed to raise cash, but the money wasn’t enough to pay off all his debts. Although he had recently negotiated a hauling contract that had excellent potential, his trucking lines were on the brink of financial bankruptcy. I was twenty-two years old at the time and had never seen my usually upbeat, optimistic father in a depressed mood.

Dad and I discussed his business situation numerous times during that month. He asked me to come home when I finished school, which was just months away, and help him with his businesses. This wasn’t the future I’d imagined for myself.

Because of my family's rocky financial history, I had come to associate business with financial struggle. Therefore, I had carefully chosen to not take any business classes at college. In fact, I'd never read a business book or article. However, I agreed to help Dad short term, and at the age of twenty-three, I took over the general management of the family trucking lines. While I focused on management, Dad focused on the marketing and customer relationships.

What I quickly realized was that my father's caring heart and good nature, one that served him so well as a civic leader, actually made him an easy mark in the business world. This was only half the problem. Dad was also a shoot-from-the-hip, easy-going type of person. Unfortunately, his life philosophy was also his business philosophy.

I found there were no actual business plans or records; no policies, procedures or standards for employees or repairs; and worse, there was no formal billing system. Dad picked up the weekly checks from customers, but had no method to verify if they were accurate.

Adding to the calamity, I discovered there were financial liens that dated back for nine years. Dad was a good guy with good intentions. He simply didn't have the money to pay all the bills. I began to understand why Dad had frequently lost money, in spite of his keen eye for identifying where money could be made and his good nature that customers loved.

I began keeping notes throughout the day and studied them at night to determine what was working—and what wasn't. I made changes, often daily. As numbers were one of my strong points, I started keeping track of our loads hauled, issued weekly billing, and created a manual payroll system to pay the drivers.

I knew something was seriously wrong when we pulled hundreds of loads weekly, but could never keep any money in the bank. So, after about three months, I decided to spend a weekend pouring over the numbers and looking for a pattern.

In a flash it hit me! I immediately called Dad and said, "I've found the problem. Every week we take in less than we pay out. That's the reason we are constantly broke."

The rest of the weekend I thought about our situation and looked for a solution. Then it dawned on me. There was a shortage of trailers that could carry the type of cargo we hauled. That meant our customers needed us and would likely pay more for our services.

Monday morning I began calling customers and explained our rates were too low to stay in business. I was able to negotiate rate increases as large as twenty-five percent.

I then scheduled meetings with each of our suppliers and took new bids which lowered our prices. After discussing our maintenance problems with Dad, I took a bold move. We started our own maintenance company, leased a facility, hired two mechanics, and our repair costs quickly decreased. We were on a new path and I was ecstatic.

By the end of that first year, all the liens were paid off. We had progressed from large financial losses to a six figure profit. Within three years, we grew to six figure profits in a month. Over this time period, I hired a dispatcher, office manager and administrative team. We were growing and had become the #1 company in our niche.

I had an excitement that comes from making your first money and rewarded myself by purchasing the home on Bayshore Boulevard. However, that quickly wore off as the realization struck that my boyhood dream wasn't everything I had imagined it to be. I was making money but worked all the time and didn't even like what I was doing. I thought that becoming a millionaire would be the whole answer, but I wasn't happy nor was I fulfilled.

Rather than feeling like I was living in a utopia, my life increasingly felt more like a nightmare. I sought to wake up and feel fully alive! I wanted financial freedom. In fact I wanted to make additional millions, but I also needed freedom inside, the freedom that only comes from feeling inner peace and deep fulfillment.

For the next fifteen years, I embarked on a quest to find greater meaning by engaging in personal development courses and spiritual retreats. I explored paths to higher consciousness and delved deep within myself, searching for my purpose and why I was here on Earth.

During this time, I also pursued two more graduate degrees while continuing to run the trucking lines. I attended law school and obtained an MBA. Even with the new degrees and the financial freedom to travel, my life still lacked purpose. In my heart, I didn't feel that what I was doing really mattered.

Rather than feeling like I was living in a utopia, my life increasingly felt more like a nightmare.

I also hit a financial ceiling. Both the business growth and the profits stagnated. I no longer wanted to expand the companies. When new opportunities emerged, I actually found myself putting on the brakes instead of moving forward.

I had to find a resolution for the growing conflicts inside myself. My introspection brought me to realize that I was living my father's dream—at the cost of giving up my own. I grappled with this awareness and lost much sleep thinking about how to move forward.

I ultimately concluded that as deeply as I loved and was devoted to my Dad, I had to leave and pursue my own path. Having come to this decision point, I mounted an effort to sell the companies. As both my Dad and I had become equal partners, I had significant influence, but it took many discussions to bring him to an agreement to sell our business.

Although Dad was seventy-six and financially comfortable, Mom had died a few years earlier and he was afraid he wouldn't have anything important to do with his life. As he had always loved his civic work, I helped him develop a plan to become even more involved in his community.

Within three months of our selling the companies, Dad was the happiest I had seen him in years. He was giving back to others and beginning a new chapter of his life.

It was now time for me to pursue my own path. My quest launched me into long journeys, including a four-month, 30,000 mile road trip throughout Canada and the United States. I encountered a wide range of experiences as I traveled both in North America and around the world. At a Buddhist monastery I learned to meditate, and I participated in the work-study program at Esalen Institute—a human potential center on the Big Sur coast of California.

I constantly sought to understand why I was here on Earth.

Throughout my journeys, I constantly sought to understand why I was here on Earth and how I could use my talents to make this a better world. Finally, on a day that was just as magical as that day I saw myself growing up to become a millionaire, my answer came to me. It filled my mind with a vision that I immediately knew was my calling.

For a couple of years I had been contemplating creating a millionaire program. However, I didn't want it to be another vapid, smoke-and-mirror, "get rich quick" show. I wanted to develop something that would have meaning and truly matter. I wanted it to create a lasting difference, both to the people whose lives I touch, and to the world.

And then, just like that, the answer revealed itself. I was relaxing in a spa tub, reading a brochure about an upcoming festival. Looking down, I read one word, conscious. The phrase immediately popped into my mind: “Conscious Millionaire®.” I said it out loud and felt an instant experience of inner peace. I had found what I had been seeking. This profound awareness resonated throughout my being. I felt it to my core.

Over the next month I handled the legal matters, including incorporating the new business and filing trademarks. I developed my early business model and success plan. Then I scripted and recorded my first Conscious Millionaire audio program. This was the beginning of Conscious Millionaire Institute, LLC.

THE NEW ENTREPRENEUR PATH

There is a shift in consciousness that is occurring all over the globe. One of the ways it is most evident is in the rise of entrepreneurs who desire to achieve a higher purpose. These entrepreneurs want to make an important contribution both by how they live and how they conduct business. Just like you, they seek a path for consciously growing their business by making a difference.

The purpose of the Conscious Millionaire Institute is to provide you with the path, tools, and support needed to consciously grow your business.

Whether you are a seasoned entrepreneur or intend to start your first business, I acknowledge and commend you for seeking an entrepreneurial path that transcends the goal of only making money.

First Stage Capitalism™, with its singular focus on creating profits, is giving way to a new approach that I call Second Stage Capitalism™. It is from this second stage that the new entrepreneur path emerges. Unlike its predecessor, this new approach has the dual focus of achieving both a higher purpose and higher profits. When entrepreneurs choose to build a business based on a heart desire to improve lives, organizations, and our world—both they and their team become driven by a shared desire to make a difference.

This more powerful, robust form of capitalism is fully expressed through Conscious Millionaire. It combines the drive to achieve something bigger with a focus on all the stakeholders winning together. As a result, it becomes a path for not only creating greater profits, but also achieving a greater good in the world.

*This new path
combines profit with purpose.*

Entrepreneurs who choose this new path are driven to do something more with their lives. Moreover, they take responsibility for their future by consciously choosing their destiny and taking focused action to attain it. This new Conscious Millionaire path takes business to a higher plane, a level of consciousness on which visionary purpose naturally emerges.

Reflect for a moment about your unmet dreams of touching and transforming others' lives. Consider the greatness you aspire to achieve and the mark you want to make on the world. Now imagine a path on which you can attain these goals by growing a business that helps others in ways that truly matter.

You also seek a path that supports your growing, learning, and expanding as a person. Like many other heart-felt people, you want to express your strongest passions in all you do, both in business and every area of your life. Equally important is your desire to experience deep fulfillment and abundant joy. You desire a path that not only provides you with each of these, but is also a way forward that supports your living with purpose.

You want to journey on a path that feels authentic and right. Moreover, you seek to experience a meaningful life that is lived in service of something greater than you. For many entrepreneurs who choose this new path, feeling a spiritual connection to a higher calling is important. It is how they unite their desire to serve mankind with their desire to serve a Higher Power.

This new path is as much about heart as it is about making money. It is a path on which your strongest passions, deepest sense of purpose, and greatest desire to make a difference in the world converge into one united path for consciously building your business.

This is the Conscious Millionaire Path, and it is with heartfelt appreciation that I thank you for choosing to journey with me through this E-Book. I feel deeply honored. On this journey, I will help you define your visionary purpose, develop the skills you need, and learn to utilize the Formula for Creating Wealth™ so you can achieve whatever level of wealth you desire.

CLAIM YOUR FULL POWER

The exact moment you make a conscious decision to stop believing that life is happening to you and begin taking conscious control over your destiny, you start reclaiming your power. This is what it means to become conscious: it is assuming full responsibility for what you achieve and the fulfillment you have along your journey.

When you choose to believe and act like a victim, you feel powerless. What happens when you do this? You literally move the center of your power outside of yourself. It is as if your power has left your body and as a result, you may feel weak, stressed, or overloaded. You feel little to no commitment to your goals and have a hard time believing in yourself.

The instant you own your power, you begin to feel your power move back inside of you, into the center of your body. You become empowered. As this occurs, a renewed energy and passion fills you with new possibilities for your life and business. You feel powerful and become more committed to achieving at your highest level.

People who achieve millionaire wealth and fulfillment let go of anything that has held them back in their past. They choose to become aware of any internal roadblocks, make a conscious decision to move past them, and then focus on taking the actions that will create the results they want.

They claim their power, move through any fear, and hold themselves accountable for what they accomplish in their business and life. As a result, they experience significantly higher levels of wealth and success.

Coaching: Choose something you want to achieve in your business but you are afraid you can't. Claim your power by choosing an initial action. Take it. Feel your power. Focus and take another action. Feel your power again. With each action you take, the more power you own.

YOUR IDEAL LIFE AND BUSINESS

Many entrepreneurs are so busy running their businesses that they never allow time to actually define what they most want, in their lives and their businesses. That is why I chose to include this section as it is important for you to consider on Your Millionaire Journey. In order for you to create your ideal life and business, including positioning yourself to only do what you truly enjoy, first define your ideal future.

Like most entrepreneurs, your ideal life includes much more than owning a business and making money. You probably also desire to enjoy the fulfillment that comes from sharing time with those you love and care about deeply. Further, a quality life includes engaging in activities that encourage you to grow, become healthy, and do something you feel matters.

Money only pays for your journey, it's how you live your journey that matters!

What is the real secret to creating your ideal life and business? Design your business so that it fits into your life—rather than trying to fit your life into your business. Quite frankly, most entrepreneurs get this backwards. The only way to avoid this trap is to consciously design your ideal life first. Then create your business model and position so they complement the life you truly desire.

The time to begin is today.

To receive the maximum value, ask any business partners to also complete this exercise. It is important to discover if each of your views of the future are complimentary, different, or currently incompatible. The reason is clear, isn't it? If there are any major incompatibilities in your respective views of the future, the best time to reconcile them is now.

In addition, if you have a significant other, also ask them to write their vision for each area. As life partners, it is important that you work together to design your shared, ideal future.

As you prepare to describe your ideal life, business, and position, I am going to invite you to dream big. Imagine that everything has gone according to your plan. In fact, it has actually turned out even better. Envision the difference you want to make, the lives you want to touch, and the business you have enjoyed growing.

Expand your mind to believe anything is possible.

Expand your mind to believe anything is possible. As you consider the following questions create a vision of what you desire over the next three years:

1. Ideal Life: Describe your ideal Conscious Millionaire life. Describe a day in your life and what you do as you move through it. Where do you live and what is your dream lifestyle? Include the people in your life and the activities you enjoy sharing. What interests do you have in common? Describe your dream car, home, and personal items such as jewelry and things you collect. How does technology touch your life? Do you enjoy traveling and exploring the world? Do you like to be in nature? What sports, entertainment, and vacations do you want to experience?

Now, describe the characteristics of your closest friends. Envision the type of activities that you enjoy doing with them. Name any people you admire. Would you like to meet them? Imagine your ideal romantic relationship. If you have someone you care about, describe what most attracts you to them. Consider what it means for you to live consciously. How does this influence the choices you make about your health, your food choices, how you interact with our environment—your total lifestyle? To live consciously, make choices that feel authentic and right for you.

Notice how you see yourself helping others and giving back. Does your life include supporting specific causes? Will you begin your own non-profit? How will life on our planet be different because you journeyed here?

Coaching: Open your Conscious Millionaire Journal you downloaded from the membership site. Write a description of what your ideal life looks and feels like in three years.

2. Ideal Business: Describe the type of business you envision owning in three years. If you currently own a business, notice what may have changed, such as the range of products and services you sell, how you market, and the size of your revenues and profits. What is the overarching purpose or vision for your business? Why does it inspire you? What would be missing in your customers' lives if your business didn't exist?

How large has your customer base grown in three years? In what new ways are you engaging with your community? Consider what you most enjoy about your business, your office environment, and the people with whom you work. Describe the characteristics of your office, including whether it is inside or outside your home. Is your ideal business people-driven or would you automate most activities and have few employees?

Describe the major challenges and opportunities you envision for your business three years from now. For example: how to manage growth, develop a sales team, or oversee virtual contractors located throughout the world. How fast are you growing and what are your best avenues for growth? Are there multiple locations? Have you franchised? How will you leverage your business? Describe your coaches, mentors, advisory team and key team members.

3. Ideal Position: Imagine your primary role in your business in three years. Begin creating the position you want by imagining what you would be doing on your ideal day. Walk through it in your mind. What would occur? Are you only performing activities that are your strengths and passions? Have you delegated or outsourced everything you dislike or are not good at? Remember, you are designing your ideal position.

Make certain that it is 100 percent the way you want it. Next, consider your leadership style. Will you create the rules in a top down fashion or operate collaboratively? What fits your personality? Think about what you see yourself doing. Then review the following list and consider which you want to include in your position: networking, leading your team, developing new products, speaking, media interviews, marketing, sales, or negotiating deals.

In your ideal position, will you work in a physical office or virtually, from anywhere in the world? How often would you travel on business and how much time would you take off from work? How many hours would you work each week? Create your ideal position, the one that will allow you to contribute to your business, clients, and the world at your highest levels.

Coaching: Open your Conscious Millionaire Journal Write a description of what your ideal position looks and feels like in three years.

CONSCIOUS MILLIONAIRE MASTERMINDS

Napoleon Hill, in his book Think and Grow Rich, defined mastermind as the organized effort of two or more people to achieve a goal by working in harmony with one another. Through participation in a Conscious Millionaire Mastermind group, you share knowledge, experience, and insight, while also sharing a visionary consciousness with like-minded entrepreneurs.

By entering your zone and sharing a group consciousness, the participants in a mastermind rapidly become more productive. You share positive energy and contribute to your group's creative mindset. Together, you innovate, expand one another's possibilities, and help each other discover new opportunities. You achieve far more than you could alone.

Conscious Millionaire Masterminds are a group of people with a common goal of building financial wealth by making a visionary difference. Participants use the formula, principles and tools in this book for the common good of everyone in the group. And by collaborating, you will expand your consciousness, evolve your ideas, and develop better solutions for how you build wealth by contributing to our world.

Another important benefit of a mastermind opportunity is that the other people in your group will see your business model, products, services, and wealth opportunities through different lenses. This is because they have varying perspectives and can offer valuable insights that are based upon their unique experiences.

It is also why you will see their business and opportunities differently than they will, and can therefore offer fresh insights to help them grow their businesses.

help participants evolve consciously and financially.

Each participant will learn what is, and is not, working for their business. You can also leverage each another's experiences, knowledge, and resources into greater success. Further, you will expand your vision of what is possible for you.

If you came together with other entrepreneurs who are also dedicated to delivering products that make life on this planet better, how would your business and life change? How much more motivated and inspired might you become? How much more could you accomplish?

What other benefits would you receive? Would you refine your business vision, discover new opportunities for money, or create insights for new products? Would you achieve your goals two, five, ten times faster by sharing resources and tapping into one another's circles of influence?

CONSCIOUS WORLD FOUNDATION, INC.

The Conscious World Foundation, Inc., is a 501c(3) non-profit organization. It supports our Conscious World Youth Training programs that will expand globally with the goal of working with youth in more than 160 countries. Our intent is to help create the next generation of worldwide conscious leaders.

The flagship program works with youth organizations. We help youth from age six through college identify a specific difference they want to create in their community. Then, by utilizing our process, they develop and implement their group project.

Through these trainings, youth learn how to achieve individual success, team success, project management and leadership. The program teaches many of the concepts in Conscious Millionaire, including the Triple Win: you, others, and society all winning together.

The foundation also sponsors the annual Conscious World Day. This is a day to celebrate youth and their potential to lead our future. A portion of Conscious Millionaire sales are contributed to the Conscious World Foundation, Inc.
